

Collaboration in research and research training

Lars Åke Persson
International Maternal & Child Health,
Uppsala University

SASNET workshop Nov 28, 2006

icddr,b

- The right place
- High scientific standards
- Mix of competences
- Relevance in research
- Remarkable sustainability
- International networks
- National and international staff

IMCH

International Maternal & Child Health,
Uppsala University

- Training and education in International Health for medical students, humanitarian aid workers, Masters program, PhD training program
- Collaborative research in sexual and reproductive health, nutrition, and child health

From Swedish sandwich to Asian-Swedish smorgasboard

- Larger joint studies with several opportunities for PhD training and several partners
- Cost-effective design and training opportunities
- Sustainability and no brain drain
- Joint funding efforts
- Opportunity to twinning of students

Experiences across cultures

- Communication
- Cultural competence
- Relevant research
- Academic environment
- Hierarchies
- Independent researcher
- Hierarchies
- Maintaining quality
- Great experience!

